Jim Caruso Joins EIS Group as EVP of World Wide Services

Subtitle

San Francisco, CA and Auckland, New Zealand – December xx, 2014 – EIS Group is pleased to announce the addition of Jim Caruso to the EIS Group family. Caruso will be EVP of World Wide Services, focused on Customer Success by establishing world-class implementation practices.

Caruso joins EIS Group from Pega where he was responsible for North America Insurance and Healthcare Professional Services and Global Technical Education. Prior to Pega, Jim directed and managed a succession of high growth businesses focused on a range of professional services including global software delivery, information engineering, management consulting, network management outsourcing, and business process automation.

“EIS Group is a wonderful opportunity to apply my decades of knowledge to a vital and expanding multi-national,” said Carsuo. “I look forward to adding my extensive industry expertise to the EIS global delivery practice and bringing additional success to our efforts.”

Caruso will build upon the DeltaBase methodology, experienced EIS Integration Partners, and the EIS track record of customer success. His primary task will to be to create a scalable and efficient delivery system designed to deliver fast and high-quality Insurance applications to the world's premier enterprises.

“We are pleased to be able to work with Jim,” said Alec Miloslavsky, CEO and executive chairman for EIS Group. “He brings with him more than 30 years’ experience in the industry and has been an outstanding success wherever he has gone. Jim will be responsible for the financial, operational, and talent management performance to insure that the EIS World Wide Services team is a strong contributor to the overall success and growth of the EIS Group.”
